scripturepages.com ©Joe Cassada

Lesson 153 Nebuchadnezzar's Dream

Story Elements

Text:	Daniel	2:1-49
-------------------------	--------	--------

Setting: circa 608 BC, in Babylon
 Main Characters: God, Daniel, and

Nebuchadnezzar

Plot: Nebuchadnezzar has a troubling dream and demands authentic

intor	nrotation
11111	pretation.

- Key word(s): "but there is a God in _______
- Climax: Daniel 2:19 Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a night vision. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

Nightmare

- (vv 1-6) During Nebuchadnezzar's second year as king he had a dream that troubled him greatly.
 Desperate for an authentic interpretation of the dream, he demanded that his counselors do two things: recount the details of his dream and then give the _______. Success would mean their promotion, but failure would mean the complete destruction of all the royal counselors.
- 2. (vv 7-11) Nebuchadnezzar's counselors confessed their inability and begged for him to reconsider. Undaunted by their pleas for mercy, Nebuchadnezzar commanded that all the wise men be ______.

.....

Night Prayer

- 3. (vv 12-16) As Arioch (the captain of the guard) went to execute the wise men, Daniel intercepted him and asked for an explanation of the goings-on. Then Daniel went to the king and assured him that the dream and its interpretation would be made known.
- 4. (vv 17-24) Daniel went home to his three companions and relayed the events of the day.
 - (a) Together, they prayed into the _____ that God would help them. Sometime during the night, God gave Daniel a vision of the dream and its interpretation.
 - (b) Daniel's song of praise is an appropriate theme for the whole book in it he praises the God of heaven who is in ______ of all things.
- 5. (vv 25-30) The next day, Daniel is brought before the king. Before he gives Nebuchadnezzar the dream and its interpretation, Daniel takes the opportunity testify about the God of heaven and to give him all the glory for his success: "But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any ______ that I have more than any living..."

.....

The Great Image

- 6. (vv 31-35) Daniel then recounted the dream to the king:
 - (a) a great image stood with a head of gold, a chest and arms of silver, an abdomen and thighs of bronze, legs of iron, and feet of iron mixed with .
 - (b) Then, a stone cut without hands, fell upon the feet, crushing them and toppling the entire image. The statue crumbled to dust and the mysterious stone stood in its place and grew into a great that filled the whole earth.

 (a) The head of gold represented thekingdom. (b) The chest and arms of silver represented theempire. (c) The belly and thighs of bronze represented theempire. (d) The legs of iron represent theempire – the strongest of all kingdoms. The feet of iron and clay represent the degenerated state of the iron kingdom. (e) The stone that crushes the feet of the statue is the kingdom of through Christ. Its coming brings an end to all human governments and destroys the enemies of God's people (all the kingdoms represented are conquerors of Israel).¹ 8. Two things are seen in the different elements of the statue: (1) they descend in: from gold to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 6:14, 15); contrast Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from God, 'whom he would he slew and whom he would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14, Es 1:13-16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³ 11. Jesus initiated the kingdom of God when he came during the rule of Rome. Although Jesus did not
 (b) The chest and arms of silver represented the empire. (c) The belly and thighs of bronze represented the empire. (d) The legs of iron represent the empire – the strongest of all kingdoms. The feet of iron and clay represent the degenerated state of the iron kingdom. (e) The stone that crushes the feet of the statue is the kingdom of through Christ. Its coming brings an end to all human governments and destroys the enemies of God's people (all the kingdoms represented are conquerors of Israel).¹ 8. Two things are seen in the different elements of the statue: (1) they descend in: from gold to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 614, 15); contrast Da 518, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from Cod, whom he would he slew and whom he would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13-16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³
 (c) The belly and thighs of bronze represented the empire. (d) The legs of iron represent the empire – the strongest of all kingdoms. The feet of iron and clay represent the degenerated state of the iron kingdom. (e) The stone that crushes the feet of the statue is the kingdom of through Christ. Its coming brings an end to all human governments and destroys the enemies of God's people (all the kingdoms represented are conquerors of Israel).¹ 8. Two things are seen in the different elements of the statue: (1) they descend in: from gold to iron; (2) They ascend in: here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 614, 15); contrast Da 518, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from Cod, whomhe would he slew and whomhe would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13-16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects; so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³
 (d) The legs of iron represent the empire – the strongest of all kingdoms. The feet of iron and clay represent the degenerated state of the iron kingdom. (e) The stone that crushes the feet of the statue is the kingdom of through Christ. Its coming brings an end to all human governments and destroys the enemies of God's people (all the kingdoms represented are conquerors of Israel).¹ 8. Two things are seen in the different elements of the statue: (1) they descend in: from gold to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 6:14, 15); contrast Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from Cod, 'whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state." 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."
 (e) The stone that crushes the feet of the statue is the kingdom of through Christ. Its coming brings an end to all human governments and destroys the enemies of God's people (all the kingdoms represented are conquerors of Israel).¹ 8. Two things are seen in the different elements of the statue: (1) they descend in: from gold to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 614, 15); contrast Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from God, 'whomhe would be slew and whomhe would be kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14, Es 1:13-16). Graeco-Nacedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."3 brings an end to all human governments and destroys the enemies of God's people (all the kingdoms represented are conquerors of Israel).¹ Two things are seen in the different elements of the statue: (1) they descend in: from gold to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: "the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 614, 15); contrast Da 518, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from God, 'whom he would he slew and whom he would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³ kingdoms represented are conquerors of Israel).¹ Two things are seen in the different elements of the statue: (1) they descend in: from gold to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 6:14, 15); contrast Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from God, 'whomhe would he slevy and whomhe would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³
8. Two things are seen in the different elements of the statue: (1) they descend in: from gold to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 6:14, 15); contrast Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from God, 'whomhe would he slew, and whomhe would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state." 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." The Persian king was so far dependent on others that he explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian kin to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da &14, 15); contrast Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from Cod, 'whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state." 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." with us in."
to iron; (2) They ascend in Here's an explanation of these distinctions from JFB: " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 614, 15); contrast Da 518, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from Cod, 'whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state." 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." with us in."
 " the Persian king was so far dependent on others that he could not deliver Daniel from the princes (Da 6:14, 15); contrast Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from Cod, 'whomhe would he slew and whomhe would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects; so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³
Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from God, 'whomhe would he slew, and whomhe would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state." 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3
Da 5:18, 19, as to Nebuchadnezzar's power from God, 'whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive' (compare Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state." 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3 Ezr 7:14; Es 1:13–16). Graeco-Macedonia betrays its deterioration in its divisions, not united as Babylon and Persia. Iron is stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³ stronger than brass, but inferior in other respects, so Rome, hardy and strong to tread down the nations, but less kingly and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³ and showing its chief deterioration in its last state."² 9. (vv 46-49) Nebuchadnezzar was amazed at Daniel's recounting of the dream and his interpretation of it. The king praised the God of heaven and promoted Daniel and his companions. Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in."³ Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3
Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3
Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3
Application 10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3
10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3
10. We see Daniel's humility all throughout this story: he gives God the glory and shares the credit with his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3 his partners in prayer. Matthew Henry notes, "What honour God puts upon us we should be willing that our brethren may with us in." 3 that our brethren may with us in." ³
11. Jesus initiated the kingdom of God when he came during the rule of Rome. Although Jesus did not destroy all human powers in his first coming, he did inaugurate his kingdom that will one day "become a great mountain, and fill the whole earth." (v 35). Nebuchadnezzar's dream is a powerful Old Testament witness to the truth of Notes:
Notes
Answer Key: Key word(s): "heaven" • 1. interpretation • 2. killed • 4. a) night; b) control • 5. wisdom • 6. a) clay; b) mountain • 7. a) Babylonian; b) Medo-Persian; c) Greek; d) Roman; e) God • 8. value; strength • 10. share • 11. Jesus
How to use this worksheet for personal Bible study : (1) Read the Bible passage given in the Story Elements section. (2) Read through the worksheet and try to fill in the blanks without looking at the Answer Key . (3) Check your answers with the key answer is correct. (4) Write down your own thoughts, applications, and questions for further study in the Notes section.

¹ The image does not represent only linear history but is also emblematic. Notice how all the empires come crashing down at once even though they are hundreds of years removed from each other.

² Jamieson, Robert, A. R. Fausset, and David Brown. Commentary Critical and Explanatory on the Whole Bible. Vol. 1. Oak Harbor, WA: Logos Research Systems, Inc., 1997. Print.

³ Henry, Matthew. Matthew Henry's Commentary on the Whole Bible: Complete and Unabridged in One Volume. Peabody: Hendrickson, 1994. Print.